Dear Glenwood Families,

As part of the new Dignity for All Students Act (DASA), New York State requires each school to provide a version of the school code of conduct in student friendly language. Please see this document enclosed in this letter. We encourage you to review this document with your children. The goal of DASA is to address the serious problems of bullying, harassment, or discrimination based on any part of a student's identity.

Also enclosed in this letter is an anti-bullying pledge that we would like students to return to their teachers by September 24, 2018. Please read this pledge with your children; both you and your child should sign this document.

We are taking a very proactive approach to minimize any type of bullying or student conflict at the school. In addition to our assembly programs, we will be developing curriculum materials as well as organizing a DASA parent committee in the next few weeks.

Thank you for your support and we look forward to working together to build an even more peaceful Glenwood Landing School.

Sincerely,

Bridget Finder and the Glenwood Landing School Staff
